

Perspectives in Historical Sociology

University of York, Department of Sociology

26th and 27th June 2023 - Room: LMB/002

Day 1: Monday 26th June

11:00 – 12:00

“A Manifesto:

All sociology should be historical sociology”

Stephen Mennell, University College Dublin

12:00 – 13:00

Lunch

13:00 – 14:30

“Civilising the witch: Gender figurations and violence within early modern witchcraft prosecutions”

Session 1

Lucy Brown, Charles University

Elias and social domination

“No touching! A more ‘civilised’ power over the other’s body?”

Dominique Memmi, French National Centre for Scientific Research

15:00 – 16:30

“The lives and after-lives of the inner city: An historical sociological investigation of urban change in London, Paris and Philadelphia”

Session 2

History, architecture, and the city

Gareth Millington, University of York

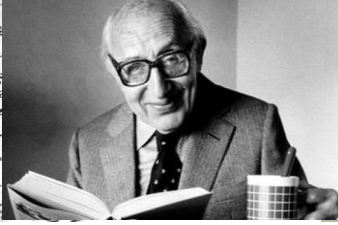

“The architecture of risk: Tracing the past in the design of future clinical space”

Daryl Martin, University of York

UNIVERSITY
of York

Free registration: contact Baptiste Brossard baptiste.brossard@york.ac.uk by June 15, 2023. Limited places in person, online option available. For any questions, contact Lucy Brown, Lucy.Brown@fhs.cuni.cz

Perspectives in Historical Sociology

University of York, Department of Sociology

26th and 27th June 2023 - Room LMB/002

Day 2: Tuesday 27th June

9:00 – 10:00

“Time and the conception of the civilising process”

Jiri Subrt, Charles University

10:30 – 12:00

“Professions and Processes”

Session 3

Eric Lybeck, University of Manchester

Social change and higher education

“Bringing historical context to social mobility: A temporal understanding of people’s sense of opportunity”

Kaidong Yu, University of Manchester

12.00 – 13:00

Lunch

13:00 – 14:30

“From tobacco pasts to vaping futures: the role of shifting social ‘canons’ in the development of substance use”

Session 4

Jason Hughes, University of Leicester

Historical sociology and the body

“Eloquent blood: A historical microsociology of blushing”

Baptiste Brossard, University of York

15:00 – 16:00

“Prospecting futures past:
How failed futures form our present”

Amanda Rees, University of York

UNIVERSITY
of York

Free registration: contact Baptiste Brossard baptiste.brossard@york.ac.uk
by June 15, 2023. Limited places in person, online option available.
For any questions, contact Lucy Brown, Lucy.Brown@fhs.cuni.cz