

FACULTY OF HUMANITIES
Charles University

CONFERENCE

REWRITING THE HISTORY:
CHANGING THE
READING OF THE PAST

JUNE • 13-14 • 2024

ONLINE & IN-PERSON

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

DEADLINE:

MAY • 12 • 2024

---

CALL FOR PAPERS

---

CONFERENCE:	Rewriting the History: Changing the Reading of the Past
ORGANIZED BY:	Department of Historical Studies, Faculty of Humanities, Charles University
DATES AND LOCATION:	13th-14th JUNE 2024, online & in-person at the Department of Historical Studies, Faculty of Humanities
LANGUAGE:	English

---

The international PhD students conference Rewriting the History: Changing the Reading of the Past focuses on a number of issues related to the reinterpretation of history and the renewal of memory during the last decades due to new political and social concerns.

The main research areas are:

- The ideologisation of history and myth-making
- Militarized patriotism and national-patriotic version of history
- The socio-political contemporary history of Ukraine
- Active remembering and selective forgetting
- Memory as a soft-power: a malleable resource
- Historical policy and instrumentalisation of the past
- Romanticisation of crime and reimagining violence
- Reinterpretation history as a “revanchist programme”
- Visual culture in the politics of reproduction
- Reclaiming silenced historical narratives
- Historical traces of the present: the use of commemorative practices
- Structural transformations of the public sphere from past to future

To submit an abstract (max. 200 words) please complete the online form on the <http://rewriting.conference2024.tilda.ws> or via email rewriting.conference2024@gmail.com no later than the 12th of May, 2024. Please also provide your academic degree and affiliation.

For any questions relating to the conference, please email: rewriting.conference2024@gmail.com

---